ARTS AND COMMUNICATION CLUSTER

The arts and communication cluster is comprised of interrelated businesses and industries to include the broad categories of visual arts, graphic communications and printing technologies, audio and video technologies, broadcasting, telecommunication technologies, and performing arts. Clearly many opportunities for career development are available to match the variety of aptitudes and academic attainment of Tennessee's students.

With consideration for the industry's growth and rapid technological change, the taskforce for the arts and communication cluster recommended changes to the current course offerings. All current frameworks have been reviewed and revised. New course standards are based on national standards and business and industry recommendations. Changes are as follows:
